'Dishonest and lazy' police couple sabotaged child sex abuse probes

DETECTIVES IN THE DOCK

TWO rogue police officers have been found guilty of sabotaging child abuse investigations.

Detective Constables Sharon Patterson, 49, and Lee Pollard, 47, forged documents, concealed evidence and lied about investigations out of laziness and "cynical disdain" for victims, the Old Bailey heard.

Patterson was even accused of ditching work to get a manicure and have a four-hour-long lunch at a Chinese restaurant with her married lover Pollard.

When she forged a document to shut down one investigation, Pollard described her as his "deceptive partner in crime" in flirtatious emails, jurors heard.

The pair denied wrong-doing citing administrative chaos at the child abuse unit in Essex where they both worked.

But prosecutor Alexandra Healy QC said their behaviour went "beyond incompetence" and could not be put down to insufficient manpower or resources.

The couple denied misconduct in a public office each between 2011 and 2014.

Patterson was found guilty of one charge and cleared of a second while Pollard was convicted of two charges of misconduct.

The jury was discharged from considering one more charge against each defendant which will lie on court file.

Judge Nigel Lickley QC adjourned sentencing until May 3.

The convictions bring to a close a four-year corruption probe into the Essex Police unit by the neighbouring Norfolk force and the police watchdog.

Up to 30 officers, some now retired, were investigated and 296 Essex child abuse cases looked at, of which 55 were referred to the Independent Office for Police Conduct (IOPC).

The defendants were the only ones to face criminal charges, but a third officer was sacked for gross misconduct last year, it can now be reported.

The misconduct came to light in 2014 after a victim complained her signature had been forged – and misspelled – on a statement taken by Patterson.

While the defendant was on long-term sick leave, the case was reassigned and resulted in a conviction in 2015.

Pollard destroyed four indecent photographs of a complainant in another case while it was still being investigated, the court heard.

But giving evidence he said: "I believe I would only have destroyed them once a decision had been taken that the investigation was closed.

"Verbal authorisations were given all the time ahead of being written down.

"That happened more and more in the office. The gap between being told verbally and written down got wider and wider."

In another instance, Pollard failed to investigate an allegation of sexual touching by a teenager then lied by claiming no further action was to be taken, on CPS advice.

It can now be reported that in September 2015, Pollard was dismissed for gross misconduct.

According to a report at the time, he accessed, copied and disclosed another officer's computerised application for a promotion without permission and then disclosed it to another officer who was considering applying for the same post.

It was described as "a deliberate and flagrant breach of honesty and integrity".

In October last year, Detective Constable Peter Wood, who worked at the same unit was dismissed for gross misconduct for lying during a child abuse case.

A panel found that between June 2013 and August 2014, he failed to take appropriate steps to trace a suspect, he was also found to have made a dishonest entry on a force recording system and lied about a witness not being willing to provide a statement.

Following the convictions, Busola Johnson, from the CPS, said: "The two officers convicted showed complete contempt for the positions they held.

"Through a mixture of dishonesty and laziness, Patterson and Pollard chose not to do their jobs to the standards the public is entitled to expect, and then lied repeatedly to cover up their failings.

"Patterson and Pollard had a responsibility to protect the public, and they failed in that duty."

Trial drug gives patient with heart failure new lease of life

by Michael Cox

southend@yellowad.co.uk

A RAYLEIGH man who was told more than a year ago that he had two days to live because of heart failure has made a "remarkable recovery" thanks to a trial drug.

Sixteen months ago, Alexander Farmer was admitted to Southend Hospital after being unable to walk, breathing difficulties and chronic heart failure.

He was told he had 48 hours to live. Mr Farmer was put onto the Transition trial in October 2017, after he was admitted onto the Critical Care Unit with end stage heart failure.

A hospital spokesman said that, since then, he has made a "remarkable recovery".

Mr Farmer said: "I've gone from not being expected to leave hospital alive to now having some quality of life, which I just didn't have for so long."

"Before I couldn't breathe, couldn't walk more than a few steps and spent much of my time in a wheelchair.

"I just can't thank everyone enough for their care and for giving me and my family this opportunity, this time that we thought I would never have."

He has started a new heart failure medication as part of the trial, and is now able to go on short trips in the UK with his family.

His wife Carol said: "We are now able to go away, something we couldn't do before, the scales and blood pressure machine are just part of our luggage now. Every day is a blessing."

The trial Mr Farmer is enrolled in is run by Dr Thuraia Nageh, consultant cardiologist at the hospital.

She said: "Mr Farmer's case is a great example of how we can benefit our patients through clinical research, in collaboration with the clinical services we provide in the cardiology department."

"He hasn't needed admission to hospital for well over a year, a rarity in patients with such advanced heart failure."

Jailed for spraying noxious liquid in man's face

A MAN has been jailed for almost nine years after he broke into an address in Leigh and sprayed a man's face with a noxious substance.

David Hudson, 52, of no fixed address, attacked the victim after forcing his way into an address in Danbury Close at around noon on October 5, 2017.

He was sentenced at Basildon Crown Court on Monday, March 11.

Hudson sprayed the man in the face with liquid from a bottle he was carrying before making off.

The victim needed hospital treatment but despite having blurry vision for three days, did not suffer permanent damage.

Three days before the attack, Hudson confronted the victim outside his home and assaulted him.

Hudson left the country but in August 2018 he visited the British Consulate in Barcelona where he claimed he was homeless and wanted to travel back to the UK.

He was arrested at Stansted Airport on arriving back in the country.

Hudson was picked out of an identity parade by the victim and charged with throwing a corrosive liquid with intent to burn, maim, disfigure, disable, or cause grievous bodily harm.

He was also charged with aggravated burglary and, in connection with the previous assault, actual bodily harm.

Hudson denied the charges but was found guilty at Basildon Crown Court on Friday, February 8.

He was jailed for eight years and nine months.

DC Katie Londesborough, from Southend CID, said: "David Hudson carried out a premeditated attack where he tried to do serious harm to the victim. He could have caused long-lasting damage to the victim and the injuries suffered could easily have been worse."

"Hudson fled the country in a bid to avoid being brought to justice and he has never shown any remorse for his actions."

"I hope this sentence helps bring some closure to the victim."

Crime investigator to run NY Marathon

AN Essex Police Crime Bureau investigator is running the New York Marathon to raise money for the PC Nicola Hughes Memorial Fund which financially supports the children of murder victims.

Over the next nine months, Jaime O'Donnell-Smith will train for the marathon on November 3.

The aim for this marathon is to support victims' children to go to university – something they might not be able to do due to their circumstances.

The charity was set up by Bryn Hughes, father of PC Nicola Hughes, who was fatally shot alongside another colleague while on duty in 2012.

This will be the fourth of six major marathons that Jaime aims to complete. She has already fundraised for the RSPCA when she ran the Tokyo, Chicago and Berlin marathons.

This time she will be running alongside 77 other staff members and officers from various police forces across the UK.

She will be the only representative

RUNNER: Jaime O'Donnell-Smith

running from Essex Police.

Jaime aims to run the marathon in under four hours, 14 minutes and hopes to hit her £500 fundraising target before she puts on running shoes this winter.

Jaime said: "I'm passionate about my running, but even more passionate about raising money for the PC Nicola Hughes Memorial fund."

"Nicola was taken from her family in such tragic circumstances whilst serving the public so what better way to honour her memory than raising money to support murder victims' families."

"Fingers crossed that my training goes well and I can complete it within my target time."

Jo Abbott, Jaime's manager, said: "Jaime is an inspiration running yet another marathon to raise money for charity."

"We'll be cheering her on as she fundraises for such a worthy cause."

Pledge to ensure vulnerable not let down again

From front page

Police, Fire and Crime Commissioner for Essex, Roger Hirst, said: "Nothing is more important than protecting children. Victims are at the heart of what we do and for these two officers, it is clear that this was not the case."

"As Police, Fire and Crime

Commissioner for Essex it is my job to hold Essex Police to account on behalf of the people of Essex. I scrutinise the force and its performance.

"I am confident that the procedures in place and the increased investment to improving the Child Abuse Investigation Teams means that the force has improved greatly, with efforts being recognised by Her Majesty's Inspectorate of Constabulary and Fire and Rescue Services.

"However, we must not be complacent and we must ensure that the most vulnerable people in our society are never let down in this way again."

Knee Pain Workshop – Back By Request...

“Are You Living With OR Worried About Someone Suffering With Chronic Knee Pain?”

“Get Relief From Knee Pain, Find Out What’s Going Wrong, Or Just Get A Solid Second Opinion, When You Attend This Free Knee Pain Workshop?”
By Leading UK Knee Pain Expert, Wendy McCloud

If you or a loved one is suffering from chronic knee pain – so bad that it can even stop, you from walking – then I'd like to invite you to attend this free workshop which may be the most important thing you do this year.

It may unlock the agonising mystery of your knee pain and show you a way to get back to the life you had before knee pain struck...

A life where you can sleep at night without tossing and turning, hoping to find that one position where the pain stops.

A life where when you wake up in the morning and it doesn't take 20 mins to get out of bed... And then another 20 minutes to get your slippers on because your knee is feeling so stiff, tight and painful.

A life where you can be confident that you can pick up and play with your children/grandchildren without worrying about if your knee will “give way” or “lock” which leaves you upset, frustrated or even depressed as you are now in agony, can't walk or you are stuck in a chair scared to move.

A life where you too can enjoy all the other things you see others doing that you currently can't due to your knee pain... Basically a life without the curse of knee pain.

If You Feel Let Down, Disappointed, And Even Sceptical About What Can Be Done To Help You, Then Read On...

My name is Wendy McCloud, one of the UK's leading knee pain specialists, and I've been helping people like you live with much less knee pain for 12 years now.

What we know is that so many people are confused or disappointed by the advice they've previously been given, unsure and sometimes even angry that they didn't get the results they were hoping for and promised and perhaps now are feeling sceptical about the chances of living with less knee pain in the future... in fact a lot of people with chronic pain cannot see a future that includes happiness.

And that's why I created this free one hour Workshop entitled: “The Best Kept Secrets Of Easing Knee Pain - And Staying Better!” and I decided to make it free so my team and I can help as many people as possible escape the daily grind of knee pain. It's FREE to you and a family member or friend to attend.

Here's What You Can Expect At Our Knee Pain Workshop

1. You'll be in a room full of like-minded people just like you who want to find out exactly what can be done once and for all to help end their knee pain.
2. We'll get a chance to find out all about you, your main concerns and what you want answers to.
3. Find out what the most common causes of knee pain are and what successful treatment and long-lasting relief looks like without the side effects of medication or surgery.
4. The biggest mistakes that most people with knee pain make – that can actually make it worse.

5. Why you've been suffering with pain for so long – and what to do about it to stop it from getting worse. We think when you come along that you will agree with many attendees who have come to this workshop before you, who now say that there truly is a life free from knee pain, even you've suffered for years.

If you're currently seeing a doctor or another healthcare provider but not getting the results you are looking for, or you are thinking about going to see someone, or you are living a life popping gut rotting pills or you just don't know what to do for the best, then please consider coming along to this FREE 60 minute workshop which will reveal “The Best Kept Secrets For Living With Less Knee Pain and Staying Pain free!”

You Should Attend This Workshop If:

1. You are aged 35+ and you suffer from knee pain – or stiffness when you sit or stand or walk further than 10 minutes.
2. You have been told you've got arthritis and you have been given pills or told it's your age and you have to live with it.
3. You want to end this knee pain naturally so you can get back to walking, running, cycling or whatever it is you are currently missing out on.

You Should Not Attend This Workshop If:

1. You are attending just out of “curiosity”. We have just 10 seats available so please do not take up a seat from someone who genuinely needs and wants our help.
2. You have a closed mind and won't listen to or take on any new advice
3. You want to be put on a machine as you think that's curing the problem. All the machines do is block the pain messages from the nerves for a while and won't fix cause of the problem.

If You Want To Come Along Here's What To Do Next...

Please call us now. Lines open today at 9am. We only have “5 seats left” out of our 10 seats available for the next Workshop to be held on Saturday 30th March at 10am.

Please phone us today to register your interest, to ask questions or secure your seat by calling us on 01702 613542. You can leave a message, 24 hours and we will get back to you.

Sincerely, Wendy McCloud

P.S. This Knee Pain Workshop will take place at our Southend Clinic, on Christchurch Road. Spaces are limited, so please call NOW on: 01702 613542 to secure your seat. Tea, coffee, soft drinks and refreshments will be provided for you. We know you will breathe a sigh of relief once you realise how easy it is to finally start living life again as you want, with much less knee pain and without the need for pills, injections, scans, x-rays or surgery!

P.P.S Just to confirm no-one will ask you for any money for anything else when you call 01702 613542 or you can go online at www.wdcpphysiotherapy.co.uk/workshops to save your seat at this event.

The budding reporters, from year 4 at Heycroft Primary School in Benvenue Avenue, had a go at writing shorthand and helped to write a story about Red Nose Day.

They also grilled reporter Michael Cox in a question and answer session on Friday.

The year group are writing news stories for their latest project.

Michael said: "It was great to visit the school and I really enjoyed being able to help the children learn more about journalism."

Story by year 4 pupils about Red Nose Day

CHILDREN at a school in Eastwood dressed up to raise money for charity on Red Nose Day.

Year 4 pupils at Heycroft Primary School wore bright colours and donated £1 for the charity Comic Relief.

There was also a cake sale and kids wore red noses.

The pupils have raised over £60 through their donations alone.

Teacher Miss Ellis said: "I love it when children dress up and especially when they dye their hair red."

Red faced over red nose insult

YOU can't argue with the £1billion+ Comic Relief has raised. With their long-term projects in Africa and the UK there can be no doubt that there are people alive in the world who simply would not be were it not for the wonderful work they do.

That doesn't mean I have to sit through an evening of hastily written, substandard, comedy skits which pass for entertainment every couple of years when BBC1 gives over an entire Friday evening to it.

Yes it's for a good cause and £63million is nothing to sneeze at, but from the 600,000 less people who tuned in and £8million less raised this year I'm not the only person who doesn't find any of it remotely entertaining.

However, an accusation was levelled at the campaign this year which even cynical old me found spectacularly unfair.

One of the celebrities to go and see the work being done by the charity in Uganda was documentary maker Stacy Dooley, the winner of last year's Strictly Come Dancing.

A photo was released of her holding a young child and smiling at the camera. Nothing there to get anyone's hackles up, surely.

Wrong! I was unfamiliar with the term White Saviour Complex until last week, but it speaks for itself I suppose and I am staggered by the sheer unbridled nastiness of it.

An innocent snap suddenly became superior white woman reinforcing colonialism by patronising poor Africans while taking all the credit for the work being done every day by the people on the ground.

So wanting to help, to utilise fame for something positive is now the latest addition to the gowing list of the politically incorrect, is it?

Lenny Henry has been to Africa many times as one of Comic Relief's mainstays and him not being very funny one Friday night every couple of years is a very small price to pay for the end result. I watch Channel 4 on Fridays anyway.

Obviously, White Saviour Complex is not something that could be levelled at Sir Lenny, but does that mean smiling for the camera with a youngster from a village in Uganda is ok for the black guy from Dudley but not for the white lass from Luton?

I might not want to sit through a dreadful Mamma Mia spoof, but I would not be so cynical about people's motives when the numbers speak for themselves over the years with projects here and abroad.

And I doubt the smiling kid in the photograph or anyone else in the villages who now have a well, a school, a clinic, could care less about what colour some of the people who helped make it happen are.

It makes me very sad that altruism, or let's just call it the common decency to want to offer a helping hand to your fellow man has to be greeted so ungraciously by those obsessed with their own political profile.

No I won't name him - he's not worth the column inches.

■ My dear departed dad taught me a lot of very valuable lessons as I was growing up and one of the most important was to reserve the right to dislike anyone for their deeds but for absolutely nothing else.

I haven't always been able to stick to the letter of that - I accept I'm not the most patient of men and I think we all come across people sometimes who we just can't take to (because they're utter d... nevermind) - but the spirit of what my father meant was that race should never be a factor.

It's something my children have grown up with and their kids are growing up with because we are all products of our environment and getting things right starts at home.

Unfortunately some people grow up in an atmosphere of twisted religious dogma or hatred for anything that isn't a carbon copy of them and I doubt we will ever be able to eradicate that from our planet.

We don't have to get on. We don't all have to like each other. I would even argue that equality means we can all have the pee taken out of us - equally.

We just can't go shooting and stabbing each other.

Brexiters' wishful thinking

K. KNIGHT (YA Letters, Mar 15) epitomises the key failure of Brexiters, that wishful thinking and a determination to avoid understanding how the EU or international negotiations work will see us through.

He's not alone. What is more disturbing is that some of our local MPs are just as delusional.

He's still claiming that Brexiters could have done better, but forgets that those that didn't run away after the referendum were given senior Government roles, but have now walked away in a cloud of their own stupidity.

We've had former Brexit Secretary David Davis claiming that we could "leave with no deal and negotiate a free trade agreement during the transition period", without realising no deal means no transition.

His successor Dominic Raab walked away claiming he "hadn't quite understood how reliant UK trade in goods is on the Dover-Calais crossing".

Brexiters Liam Fox, who promised 40 trade deals ready to be signed on March 29, admits he's got four in place, including with the mighty Faroe Islands, Liechtenstein and Mauritius.

We have to accept that the people who led the Leave campaigns do not have the ability to deliver their impossible dream.

Mr Knight blames the EU for imposing hard borders "as punishment for Britain's intransigence". The reason for hard borders is the UK's decision to leave the customs union. We can't leave the club and still demand the benefits of membership.

This is disturbing when the Brexiters don't seem to understand the Good Friday Agreement or that the Republic of Ireland is a separate country as when Mr Davis said: "One of our really challenging issues - will be the internal border we have with southern Ireland."

Mr Knight also questions the report of businesses being swamped with paperwork. This was an example given by one firm to their trade association, there are thousands like them and they will cease trading when the paperwork starts.

I don't expect Mr Knight to believe them, he's still clinging to his "sunny uplands" Brexit and this doesn't fit with him.

He also seems to confuse port managers who are ready and the national customs officials who are understaffed and ill-equipped. This is English exceptionalism and the expectation that everyone should bend to our whims, despite that stronger EU economies have bent over backwards to accommodate the UK despite our demanding the impossible.

We seem so keen to end freedom of movement, but don't seem to understand we can't. Freedom of movement will continue, we're only ending it for ourselves.

Paul Martin
Rayleigh

Little hope of a smooth Brexit

BREXIT is building barriers at public expense that don't exist, then spending more from public and private funds to overcome the barriers so put up.

For the first time outside of wartime the government has connived to remove UK citizens' rights, while creating the odious EU settled status scheme, another Windrush scandal in the making.

The promises of boundless opportunities have long disappeared to be replaced by talk of "we'll get by - there will be ups and downs - and anyway we can do more damage to them that we'll inflict on ourselves".

It is possible a smooth Brexit could be achieved if it hadn't been promoted by fantasists who ran away when confronted with reality before handing it over to the incompetent to carry it out.

Andrew Summers
Benfleet

Wider issues of tackling crime

KEITH Little seems to belittle authorities' attempts to understand why offenders commit crimes and only appears to want them locked away until they have been "rehabilitated" (YA Letters, last week).

Locking offenders away will not only introduce them to more criminal activities but give them a criminal record they may never recover from. Don't get me wrong, criminals should be punished and sentences should be harsh, but one needs to look at the broader picture.

Take the knife crime and youth of today. Look at how they have been treated by authorities, political correctness on steroids, exam after exam, forced at 16 to attend inane college courses for a couple of days a week or into debt via university fees and for what?

Dead-end jobs on zero hours contracts, if they can get one.

Youth clubs and centres shut down, playing fields sold and drug dealers at the school gates cajoling them to sample their wares, it's no wonder they join gangs to feel some sort of belonging. They will have no future without investment to counter this decline in prospects.

They need something to aim at, to inspire them, something that is denied them at present.

Plenty of youth activities, centres and clubs, better education, apprenticeships and job prospects are needed. Businesses need to employ and train youths instead of taking on cheap foreign labour and should be rewarded or penalised for doing so.

Instead of funding useless projects via the Foreign Aid Budget or giving the EU £39billion (plus another £1bn a month for the duration of a Brexit delay) this money should be invested in this country.

Banning the sale of knives will not solve the problem and why punish someone for having one? This is just a knee-jerk reaction. It would be more appropriate to introduce mandatory sentencing for using any weapon, not just knives; five years for threatening, 10 years for wounding, life for murder. No excuses, no mitigating circumstances, no remission. Offenders will know what to expect when caught and police wouldn't waste time over stop and search.

Drugs and the battle against them is lost, so try a different approach. Legalise them, sell them in chemists or specialised shops. Manufactured under strict control users would know what they buy is safe and sold at a reasonable price or on prescription for addicts it would undermine dealers' profits and pull the rug from under their feet.

Drug dealing of any sort should also carry a hefty mandatory sentence.

K. Knight
Basildon

Save town from council's deals

FOR thousands of years countries, politicians and bureaucrats have proposed with troubling regularity to buy something "absolutely essential" for their respective governments, so they can later, when it has become "obsolete and unnecessary", sell it. The problems with these transactions are many - government "servants" end up "buying high and selling low", their trading party is a friend or a campaign sponsor and the reasons for these trades are so ludicrous, that anybody still paying attention is so flabbergasted, that he wonders about his own sanity, instead of theirs.

Southend Council must think we are inebriated morons, who don't remember a thing and cannot add up. Then John Lamb (with Cllr Courtenay in tow) has the gall to declare that they are not going to make any fly-by-night decisions on investments.

What have car park charges, unnecessary road regenerations, museum dreams or Seaway car park idiotic decisions been?

It is curious how governments plead poverty and wail about having to cut services, but they always find millions (or worse, borrow them) to squander on disreputable questionable investments. I wonder how these government "servants" find enough impudence and audacity to propose these trades and why doesn't the public react?

Southend councillors are relying on us being polite and not telling them where to stick deals like the Seaway car park, but to save this town that is precisely what we must do to prevent this.

HUNTER'S TAMING OF THE BEAST

by Lewis Berrill

features@yellowad.co.uk

ONE of Britain's favourite stand-up comedians from across the pond, Reginald D. Hunter, is coming to Southend.

Reginald, who was born in Albany, Georgia, performed his first ever comedy set as a dare for which he received £100.

He has since gone from strength to strength delivering multiple hit tours and becoming a household name as a regular fixture on TV panel shows such as Have I Got News for You, QI, 8 out of 10 Cats Does Countdown and Never Mind the Buzzcocks.

Reginald, 49, is set for his brand new UK tour, Facing the Beast, which visits The Palace Theatre, Southend, on Sunday, May 5.

The tour celebrates his 20th anniversary as a comedian living in the UK.

Even after all those years, nothing beats the buzz of stand-up for Reginald.

"It's the only time of day that people are very happy to see me – I can't even count on that from my own family," he quipped.

Despite his popularity on panel shows, Reginald prefers the thrill of a live show. "I adore the interaction with the audience," he explained.

"What I live for is those moments where something comes out of my mouth or an audience member's mouth that completely surprises all of us. You can't orchestrate that."

Reginald "adores" audience interaction and the spontaneity of stand-up.

"There was one moment where I came on stage when I was lean and pretty," Reginald recalled. "A woman in the audience shouted out, 'Show us your c**k!' I immediately replied, 'I decline to do that, mam, because it ain't that kind of party. Let me ask you, 'Do you go to strip clubs and shout out, 'Tell us a joke?'"

The comedian, who has an affinity with UK audiences, says he loves that "they will hear you out."

"I'm a black man from the south of the US. I was born in trouble, and I don't expect no game to be 50-50. All I ask is that I know what the rules are going in."

"In the UK, the rules are simply these: you can talk about anything you want, no matter how graphic or goofy, as long as you're funny.

"But if you talk about stuff that isn't funny and isn't going anywhere, you will be asking the Brits for your ass back."

"That's my ass over there on the floor. Can I have it back, please?"

In Facing the Beast Reginald addresses social tensions and the prevailing air of fury, his answer is simple – civility.

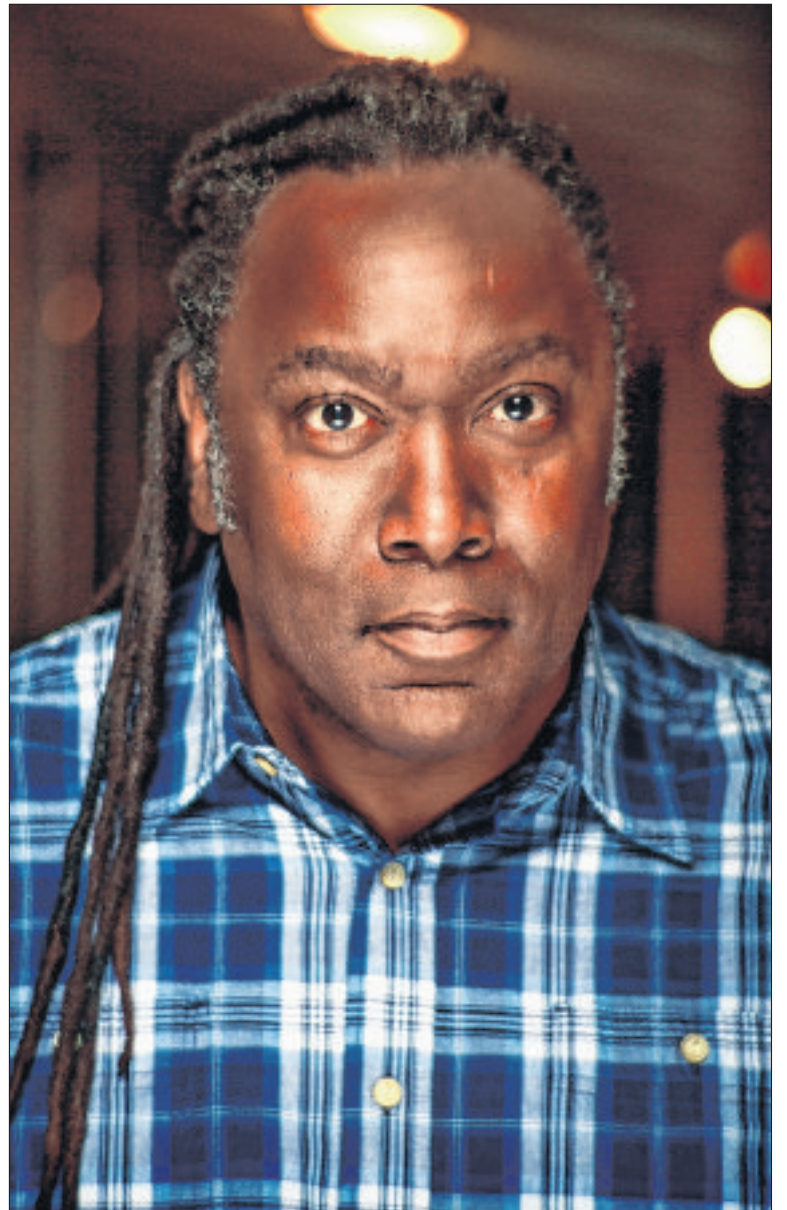

"There's no problem on earth that can't be solved between two people by 15 minutes of considered chat – that goes for marriage, Brexit, or the Middle East."

"The fact that we have talked about some of these things for 50 years tells me that the powerful prefer the issue to the solution. It's a matter of divide and conquer."

In Facing the Beast, Reginald will also be tackling the thorniest issue of our times, Brexit.

"I would advise my British friends to go back and look at whose idea it was. Once you have filled in the blanks, then you have the freedom to decide whether or not you should be mad about it."

Us and them

US (15, 116 mins)

IN his Oscar-winning horror Get Out, writer-director Jordan Peele took a magnifying glass to race relations and exposed ugly blemishes in the face of American society.

For his eagerly awaited second feature, the film-maker holds up a mirror – literally and figuratively – and asks us to stare unblinkingly into the eyes of our distorted reflections.

Us is more bloodthirsty and physically punishing than its predecessor, obliquely referencing The Shining and Invasion Of The Body Snatchers as a family of four are held hostage by diabolical doppelgangers.

Peele's script is laboriously specific about the back stories of the lead characters but he is frustratingly ambiguous when it comes to burnishing the nuts and bolts of the social commentary underpinning the slaughter.

You can read this battle royale as an allegory about the oppression of an economic and political underclass, the fear of outsiders infiltrating our cosy suburban idylls or the war against terrorism.

Us is open to multiple interpretations, which should spark lively debate over the popcorn.

Viewed purely as a misfit member of the horror genre, Peele's picture is unsettling rather than white-knuckle terrifying and there are no conventional jump scares.

Every stab or slash is telegraphed and the script's coup de grace is evident by the chronologically fractured structure.

In 1986, as a little girl with pig-tails, Adelaide Wilson (Lupita Nyong'o) wandered into the Shaman's Vision Quest attraction at Santa Cruz amusement park during a thunderous downpour.

She glimpsed something unspeakable in the hall of mirrors.

Fast-forwarding to the present, Adelaide is a fiercely protective mother to two children, Zora (Shahadi Wright Joseph) and Jason (Evan Alex).

"Stick with me and I'll keep you safe," Adelaide promises her boy.

She travels with husband Gabe (Winston Duke) and the kids to the family's beach house to reconnect with friends Josh and Kitty Tyler (Tim Heidecker, Elisabeth Moss) and their twin daughters (Cali and Noelle Sheldon).

Late one night, Jason interrupts his mother with disturbing news: "There's a family in our driveway."

Gabe attempts to scare away the four shadowy figures with chest-puffing bravado and a baseball bat.

But the intruders are the Wilsons' gnarled, scissor-wielding doppelgangers, Red (Nyong'o), Abraham (Duke), Umbrae (Wright Joseph) and Pluto (Alex).

"Let's set some traps, some Home Alone-type stuff," foolishly suggests a panicked Gabe.

Us is a stylish home invasion thriller, which lacks the persistent itch of Get Out after the end credits roll.

Nyong'o delivers tour-de-force performances that could earn her an Oscar nomination next year while Duke provides fleeting comic relief.

Composer Michael Abels appropriates the melody of hip-hop duo Luniz's anthem

I Got 5 On It as the discord-ant theme of his soundtrack, which underscores each twist in a tangled narrative.

Seeing is deceiving.

We have been advertising with the Yellow Advertiser for a number of years now. We have been delighted with the professionalism of, not only the whole team, but in particular Sharon Gunston. Sharon is a pleasure to do business with. We will remain loyal customers for many years to come.

Auction House outperforms market in 2018

Leading property auctioneer Auction House – which has a branch in Essex – has reported increased sales for 2018 of 6.9%, raising a total of over £455m (£455,131,080), a record amount in the 11 year history of the group.

Last year, Auction House sold 3,680 lots from almost 5,000 lots offered (4,971), representing a success rate of 74%.

Commenting on the latest figures, Managing Director, Andrew Stallard said: “This is a remarkable result for 2018, especially against such a challenging background, with political uncertainty a significant and ever-present factor. It’s good to add yet another step to our market share staircase – at a time when nearly every one of our competitors has seen volumes falling – and achieve incremental growth for the 11th year in succession.

“What’s more, there seems to have been a noticeable fall in the sector nationally, with figures suggesting that between December 2017 and November 2018 the market dropped by around 7%. If this trend continued into December, as seems likely, it means that Auction House would have delivered ahead of the market by a massive 14% over the course of the year.”

The figures for December were also well ahead of expectations. Last month the group sold 430 lots from 612 offered – a success rate of 70.3% with over £50m raised (£52,792,108).

Andrew added: “Not only were December’s figures impressive, but our early listings for 2019 auctions are already looking good too. There are currently over 220 properties due to be offered in forthcoming sales, including around 20 lots in our National Online Auction on the 24th January.

“Interestingly, many vendors are now telling us that they want to sell this tax year and before Brexit Day. For this reason, we expect entry levels to stay strong in the first quarter.

“Whilst buyer numbers were down in the final quarter of last year, we didn’t experience the dramatic drop forecast by many. Local knowledge and keen pricing are the key ingredients for successful auctions in a difficult climate, and Auction House, with its 40 auction rooms, is best-positioned to deliver.

“Looking further ahead, whatever happens with the Brexit process will inevitably have an impact on the market; but the latest figures certainly mark a very positive end to 2018.”

Local press three times more trusted than social media

Three quarters of people (74%) trust the information they read in their local paper in print or online. Only 22% trust local news they read on social media platforms.

Local press in print and digital (74 per cent) is the most trusted source for local news and information, ahead of local commercial TV and local commercial radio (both 73 per cent), search engines (43 per cent), social media (22 per cent) and other websites (39 per cent). ## Latest BMW models hit the roads

By David Whinyates

BMW dealers are gearing up to roll out the German prestige marque's latest models as the first examples of the new 3 Series and Z4 models arrive in the UK.

Dripping with the latest technology, fresh styling and a host of technical and engineering refinements these latest takes on two of the brand's most iconic models are set to start hitting the roads this month.

The seventh generation of the 3 Series Saloon is longer, wider and lighter and is available in a dramatically simplified range with a package and option list reduced to six main packages and around 10 single options.

Four diesel-engined and two petrol-powered versions are available initially with prices starting at £32,450 for the new 150bhp 320d, rising to £39,630 for the 265bhp 330d with BMW's X-drive all-wheel-drive system. A hybrid version will be available later.

The entry level SE model features a substantially increased standard spec, which includes adaptive LED headlights with cornering light and eyebrow indicators, ambient interior lighting with up to 11 colour settings, a parking assistant with reversing camera and latest generation reversing assistant, electric folding mirrors, three-zone air conditioning and enhanced acoustic glazing.

Like the 3 Series, the latest Z4 is longer, wider and higher than before and comes with a number of new design features including a distinctive mesh, honeycomb-patterned radiator grille, a sculpted front apron with massive air intakes and twin, vertical LED light units mounted above each other at the outer edges of a "clamshell" bonnet.

At the rear there's a distinctive, boot-mounted spoiler.

There's no retractable hard top option this time round, the latest Z4 only being available with an electrically-operated, retractable soft-top – when folded it doesn't affect the available boot space which is 50 per cent bigger than before.

There's a choice of three turbocharged petrol engines all mated to an eight speed steptronic auto transmission.

Two four cylinder units with either 197 or 258bhp are on offer and, in the top of the range M40i model, a three-litre, 340bhp straight six, the latter with a top speed of 155mph and a 0-60 sprint time of around 4.5 seconds.

Prices start at £36,990 for the Z4 sDrive 2.0i and top out at £49,050 for the 340bhp M40i.

West Ham 4-3 Huddersfield Town
Premier League

SUBSTITUTE Javier Hernandez scored twice in the final stages as West Ham United produced an incredible fightback to break Huddersfield Town hearts and take all three points on a dramatic afternoon at the London Stadium.

Despite a disappointing display at Cardiff, the Hammers went into the game defending an unbeaten home sequence during 2019 and manager Manuel Pellegrini reiterated the east Londoners' potential as they looked to conclude the campaign with a flourish.

"I don't think we should be happy because we are in ninth in the table," the Chilean said. "As a manager, as a player, and as a club, you must always demand more of yourself."

Pellegrini made three changes to the side which slipped up in south Wales with Marko Arnautovic, Michail Antonio and Pablo Zabaleta all in the starting eleven.

Struggling Huddersfield arrived in the capital with only three league victories to their name all season and they were almost behind early on when Antonio nodded against the frame of the goal after Declan Rice had recycled an over-hit flag-kick from Manuel Lanzini.

But with their next foray forward, West Ham were provided with an opportunity to break the deadlock. Aaron Rowe was clumsy on Lanzini, and skipper Mark Noble comfortably dispatched the spot-kick – his third goal of the season.

But the Hammers supporters had barely retaken their seats when Juninho Bacuna powerfully headed home Aaron Mooy's pinpoint corner – Huddersfield's first goal on the road since the turn of the year.

Antonio lashed over as the Hammers looked to re-establish their advantage. But they were looking far from themselves and on the half-hour mark Huddersfield broke through again. Karlan Grant prodded home after Alex Pritchard and Chris Lowe had combined to fashion an opening – it was no more than the Terriers deserved.

Pellegrini responded by throwing

Hernandez on in a bid to pep up his otherwise toothless attack. And the move almost paid immediate dividends. Terriers keeper Jonas Lossl bravely thwarting the Mexican striker's goalbound dash.

Nevertheless, Huddersfield were still providing a threat of their own. Lukasz Fabianski springing across his goal to turn over Bacuna's fizzing effort from distance.

Lossl smothered Arnautovic's left-footed attempt after Felipe Anderson had teed the Austrian up, but within minutes, the Hammers troubles deepened as Grant brilliantly fired his second and the Terriers' third high beyond Fabianski.

Angelo Ogbonna gave the Hammers hope a quarter of an hour from time, heading home Aaron Cresswell's corner and immediately igniting the home crowd.

Pellegrini was clearly delighted and perhaps a little relieved. "I think that the victory was very good for the fans, especially when you are losing 3-1 and you don't give up and you continue trying to win the game. I think that reflects the character of this team," he said.

"It was good for everyone – for the fans, for me, for the players. Maybe not so much for Huddersfield – they played a good game.

"We talked before the game that maybe this team do not win too many games because they do not have many goals, but they always score from set pieces. They then scored two goals from set pieces."

The Hammers boss spoke about the comeback, adding: "We had three players (substitutes) suited to do that in this game and the most important thing is not to give up.

"Sometimes you might think it is impossible to come back, but in football, it is always possible. Two or three balls can change the score."

Distraught Huddersfield boss Jan Siewert tried to hide his disappointment, saying: "I am so proud of the performance. There are reasons we are bottom of the table, but we kept fighting, and you saw that today."

West Ham return to Premier League action on Saturday, March 30 when Everton visit the London Stadium (5.30pm).

Non-league football

O's one step closer to FA Trophy final

LEYTON Orient hold on to a slender Buildbase FA Trophy semi-final advantage after a second-half goal from Macauley Bonne saw off a stubborn AFC Telford side at Brisbane Road.

The former Colchester United frontman struck the only goal of a well-fought first-leg tie nine minutes after the interval. The O's now hope to finish the job and reach the showpiece Wembley final when they visit Telford's New Bucks Head ground for the second-leg next Saturday.

In the National League, Braintree Town put up a brave performance but slipped to a 2-1 defeat at promotion-chasing Solihull Moors. Korrey Henry had handed the Iron the lead. However, Liam Daly levelled for the West Midlands before the break before Adi Yussuf secured the home side victory 11 minutes from time.

Concord Rangers produced a notable National South performance at Hampton & Richmond Borough, winning 4-1. Former AFC Wimbledon striker, Jack Midson, scored twice for the Beach Boys (one pen), while Danny Green and Juan Prados completed the rout.

Chris Whelpdale and Chez Isaac handed Chelmsford City a 2-0 lead over Weston-Super-Mare at the Melbourne Stadium. However, the visitors hit back to earn a share of the spoils thanks to goals from Matthew Bower and Tom Harrison. The Westerners had Marlon Jackson sent-off, but the Clarets were unable to make their numerical advantage tell.

A goal from Moses Emmanuel proved insufficient as Billericay Town slipped to defeat at Slough Town. Billericay's misery was compounded by the sending off of Jake Robinson. It also proved to be a tough afternoon for relegation-haunted East Thurrock Utd who went down by a single goal to Oxford City at Rookery Hill.

Sean Marks found the net in the final stages to ensure AFC Hornchurch a 1-0 Bostik League Premier Division victory at Potters Bar Town.

Bowers & Pitsea continued their relentless charge towards the Bostik North title with a superb 5-1 victory at Bury Town. David Knight and Max Cornhill both scored twice for Bowers while Lewis Manor was also on target.

Second-place Maldon & Tiptree were beaten at home by third-placed Coggeshall Town. Conor Hubble hit a brace for the Seedgroves while Ross Wall and Nnamdi Nwachuku confirmed the victory – Jack Cawley with the Jammers reply.

Ryan Cosson, Joseph Oluwatobi, Nana Boakye-Yiadom and Billy Reynolds all scored as Barking won 4-1. Visitors Heybridge Swifts responded through Harrison Chatting. Despite the loss they remain in the final play-off place.

George Woodward gave Romford the lead at Basildon United. The Bees hit back through Daniel Cheema, Callum Taylor (pen) and Joseph Paxman to win 3-1.

Grays Athletic won an exciting clash with AFC Sudbury by the odd goal in five – Mitchell Hahn, Aron Gordon and Michael Toner scoring for the winners. Meanwhile, Jake Gordon was Great Wakering Rovers' goalscorer as they battled out a 1-1 draw with fellow strugglers, Soham Town Rangers at Burroughs Park.

Tilbury drew 2-2 at Mildenhall Town – Thomas Barton and Lewis Smith with the Dockers goals.

James White hit Canvey Island's goal against Dereham Town at Park Lane, but the Gulls crashed to a 4-1 defeat.

In the Essex Senior League, Southend Manor stunned Hullbridge Sports, winning by two unanswered goals at Lower Road, while Leyton Athletic beat Sawbridgeworth Town 1-0.

Aveley Reserves proved to be too strong for Tower Hamlets, winning their Peter Butcher Memorial Trophy meeting 2-0.

Selected action from the ProKit UK Essex Olympian League saw Catholic United edge out Sungate 3-2 in a well-contested Premier Division encounter. Kelvedon Hatch were 3-1 winners over Harold Wood Athletic, while Rayleigh Town won 1-0 at Hutton.

Blues drop further into trouble after Dons defeat

Southend Utd 0-1 AFC Wimbledon
Sky Bet League One

By Rowland Lyons at Roots Hall
Goal difference now only separates Chris Powell's Shrimpers from the drop zone after former loanee Joe Pigott's second-half strike saw the improving Dons steal the points on Saturday.

Having overseen a side now ten games without a win, a beleaguered Powell admitted: "I and the players feel pretty low at the moment. If you make a mistake, you get punished. But, as a manager, you understand what business and what position you're in."

Harry Bunn should have scored on ten minutes but curled an effort wide, before Michael Turner cut a frustrated figure seeing Dons' keeper Aaron Ramsdale deftly tip over a towering 25th minute header.

The visitors, currently on a good run of four wins in six games, were always a threat, with Pigott a handful and fit-again Harry Lennon was lucky not to beat his own keeper Mark Oxley with a clearing header from an Anthony Hartigan set-piece.

The Dons almost drew first blood on 57 minutes, but Sam Hart was on his mettle to deny Michael Folivi a certain goal.

Kicking into the wind, Southend finally fashioned out a chance, but a clean-through Stephen McLaughlin allowed Aaron Ramsdale to make a block before Simon Cox was denied on the rebound.

Disaster then struck the Shrimpers on 67 minutes when an awful mix-up between Turner misjudging a long ball and a hesitant Mark Oxley allowed Pigott in, who finished with an easy tap-in.

Southend offered very little in reply, with only late sub Charlie Kelman spurning a decent chance, shooting straight at Ramsdale before Timothee Dieng sliced a long-range stoppage-time effort well wide.

Powell added: "I have had a long chat with the players. They can play at this level, but they're not doing it at the moment. But, it's a result that is really difficult to take. Anything that goes against us can do so, at the moment – like the late goal at Blackpool, last week.

"We had the better passages of play today. Mark Oxley only had one save to make in the first-half – it seemed to be heading for scrappy nil-nil draw. Then Joe Pigott gets a goal out of nothing. At the moment it's not happening for us."

Powell concluded: "I'm here to see through good and bad times. I've got to look at myself and be positive. But I can understand the fans. And, I've got to be as forceful with these players and get them out of it [the relegation scrap] in the eight games that remain."

Southend travel to Peterborough Utd on Saturday (kick-off 3pm).

Southend United: Mark Oxley, Jason Demetriou, Michael Turner, Harry Lennon (Charlie Kelman 75), Rob Kiernan, Sam Hart, Luke Hyam (Dru Yearwood 87), Timothee Dieng, Stephen McLaughlin (Michael Kightly 76), Simon Cox, Harry Bunn. Subs (not used): Nathan Bishop, Sam Mantom, Taylor Moore, John White. AFC Wimbledon: Aaron Ramsdale, Will Nightingale (capt) (Tennai Watson 46), Terrell Thomas, Paul Kalambayi, Toby Sibbick, Scott Wagstaff, Anthony Hartigan, Anthony Wordsworth, Steve Seddon, Joe Pigott, Michael Folivi (Dylan Connolly 70). ## STAIRLIFTS

All Terrain Mobility are your friendly local stairlift company

Are you thinking of having a stairlift fitted? Don't use a big national company, until you have talked with us...

Here are some reasons to consider using All Terrain Mobility, your local stairlift company:

Our engineer lives in Leigh on Sea - no long waits or tedious call centres to get through when you need service

We can fit even the most complex lifts quickly and economically

We do not employ pressure salespeople

We do not ask for a deposit. You pay us only when the job is finished to your satisfaction

We do not "pressure" sell expensive extended warranties

After your 12 months free warranty you can call our local engineers on a one off basis or take out a low cost yearly service contract

Call us for a free survey and quotation. We have saved some of our customers £1000's, especially on more complex curved lifts
